

Teacher Certification Program

- Clinical practice based model, in a classroom, with an experienced professional coach. You learn how to teach while facing real time issues and receiving immediate, customized feedback.
- Online modules allow background and supplemental learning to be done at the candidate's pace.
- A flexible timeline means candidates can finish in as little as one semester or up to a year.
- Open entrance means candidates don't have to wait months to begin the program. Candidates start when it works best for their lives.
- Collaborative support is essential to this process and our model ensures that all parties, the school, the district and NWED personnel, are focused on the candidate's success.
- Competitive pricing, with the entire program costing $9,900, makes the program accessible to anyone interested in becoming a teacher.
- Endorsements currently offered in Elementary Education, English Language Arts, Mathematics and World Language.

Our Candidates:

- Have a 4 year degree from a regionally accredited university.
- Have experience in, and a passion for, working with school-aged children.
- Are driven, independent individuals.
- Are knowledgeable in the subject they wish to teach

Get Started:

- Check our website to learn more about the required tests and current partnership districts.
- Gather your college transcripts and begin taking the required state tests.
- Once you've got your test taken care of, fill out an application!

Northwest Educational Development is a private organization that seeks to improve the overall educational landscape through the intentional recruitment, training, and support of practitioners in a clinical-practice based model of teacher education.

Our model of teacher education is designed to have fewer barriers to entry and encourage candidates from non-traditional backgrounds to enter the profession.

The Northwest Educational Development Teacher Certification Program is committed to helping with the teacher shortage in Washington.

Our program allows for conditionally certified candidates to receive training as soon as they are employed and placed in a classroom. This means they can become effective and efficient teachers sooner than most traditional programs.
